

HIPSTER ART TEACHER

Make a Colored Pencil Ice Cream Cone

hand2mind

VIDEO:

Watch the video to follow along.

hand2mind-link.com/ArtW7D2

MATERIALS:

- White paper (watercolor or thick copy paper works best)
- Colored pencils (Crayola® or Prismacolor work best)
- Beads/glitter, glue, brown paint (optional)

OBJECTIVES: Kids will create a colored pencil ice cream cone using colored pencils. Kids will know how to create highlights and shadows. Kids will know how to blend colors using colored pencils.

DIRECTIONS:

Draw a “V” shape at the bottom of the paper, making sure it does not take up more than half of the paper.

Draw 2 circle shapes and 2 cloud shapes on top of the “V”. These will be the ice cream scoops on top of your cone!

HIPSTER ART TEACHER

Decide what flavor ice cream you want to make and choose the colored pencils that best match that flavor. For example: for mint chocolate chip, I would need green and brown. If I was making a strawberry flavor, I would use red or pink (or both)!

For each ice cream scoop, we are going to use shading to make it look 3D! Start by creating a crescent moon shape in the bottom left corner for the dark shade. As you color up to the top right, use a circular motion and gradually use less pressure on your pencil to make the strokes appear lighter. You may have to go over some spots a few times to get the color you need.

For the cone, you will need colored pencils in different shades of brown. Instead of a crescent moon, we will start with a triangle shape for the shadow. Gradually work from the left to the right, moving your pencil up and down along the cone. You can even add a little yellow to get a “golden” color for the cone.

Don't forget to add fun details! You can draw a cherry on top, or use brown paint to add fudge! You can even glue beads to the ice cream scoops for sprinkles!

Permission is granted for limited reproduction of pages for in-home or classroom use and not for resale.

Chelsey Odgers, known in the teaching community as Hipster Art Teacher, is a K–12 certified art teacher in New Jersey. Chelsey graduated from Stockton University in 2012, where she earned a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Visual Communications and a Bachelor of Arts in Education. Chelsey is the owner of the Etsy shop Hipster Art Teacher, selling custom, hand-lettered clipboards to teachers all over the world! She also sells clip art, fonts, and classroom decor in her Teachers Pay Teachers store and creates tee shirt designs for The Wright Stuff Chics. Chelsey is also a teacher presenter at the Teach Your Heart Out Conference. Her passion is sharing her love of art with students of all ages!

