

Make a Watercolor Scroll

VIDEO:

Watch the video to follow along.

hand2mind-link.com/ArtW7D1

MATERIALS:

- Thick white paper (watercolor or thick copy paper works best)
- Watercolor paint set
- Watercolor brush
- Cup of water
- Sharpie®
- Pencil

OBJECTIVES: Kids will learn how to draw a scroll, create block letters, and create different values of color using watercolor paint. Kids will practice using watercolor paint as a medium and properly care for their materials. Kids will experiment with different techniques to create a splatter effect.

DIRECTIONS:

To create the “scroll”, draw 2 wavy lines (pictured).

Connect the 2 lines by drawing a line down on either side to connect the top line to the bottom line.

At the top corner of each side, create an “s” and backwards “s” and draw the line out to make the ribbon shape.

Draw a “v” shape at the end of the line and connect it back up to the scroll shape. Connect the “s” shape to the scroll by drawing a line straight down on either side.

Once you are done drawing out your scroll, draw your word inside the scroll. Use a Sharpie® to fill in your word and trace the scroll. Then, erase any pencil lines.

Now we are ready to add color! Use the watercolor paints to splatter on paint into the background! You can lightly tap your brush (or use an old toothbrush) to control where the paint goes. While the paint is still wet, use a straw to blow the paint into streaks. This will make the paint look like fireworks!

Chelsey Odgers, known in the teaching community as Hipster Art Teacher, is a K–12 certified art teacher in New Jersey. Chelsey graduated from Stockton University in 2012, where she earned a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Visual Communications and a Bachelor of Arts in Education. Chelsey is the owner of the Etsy shop Hipster Art Teacher, selling custom, hand-lettered clipboards to teachers all over the world! She also sells clip art, fonts, and classroom decor in her Teachers Pay Teachers store and creates tee shirt designs for The Wright Stuff Chics. Chelsey is also a teacher presenter at the Teach Your Heart Out Conference. Her passion is sharing her love of art with students of all ages!

