Read the passage. Then, write a definition for each bold word.

The U.S. Flag

The U.S. flag is called the Stars and Stripes.

It has 13 red and white stripes. These stand for the 13 original colonies.

The flag has 50 stars. These stand for the 50 states. The first flag had just 13 stars, 1 for each colony.

The flag stands for freedom. People like to celebrate the flag. There is even a special song about the flag.

The flag has its own holiday called Flag Day. It is on June 14th.

1. colonies: __________________________________________________________
   __________________________________________________________________

2. flag: ___________________________________________________________
   __________________________________________________________________

3. freedom: _________________________________________________________
   ___________________________________________________________________

4. special: __________________________________________________________
   ___________________________________________________________________

5. holiday: _________________________________________________________
   ___________________________________________________________________