I am Mr. Greg from The Kindergarten

Smorgasboard. I have been teaching for 14 years.

I spent a year teaching Fifth Grade, 2 years in Second Grade, and am now in my 10th year in Kindergarten, which is my passion and my calling but, honestly, that wasn't how it started. When I moved to Kindergarten (not voluntarily!) I called my mommy and cried. But on the first day, I fell in love and knew that Kindergarten is where I belong. I have remained in Kindergarten ever since.

I plan to never leave the classroom as the kids are what drive me to continue my growth as a teacher and person.

I received my bachelor's degree from Indiana University and received my ELL certification from David Lipscomb University. At the beginning of my career I spent 2 summers teaching in Ecuador, which only helped to fan the flames of my passion for teaching. I have a monthly broadcast on YouTube called Submission for Smorgie LIVE. I enjoy blogging, creating curriculum and resources for my classroom, and conducting professional development sessions to help teachers around the world make their classrooms a more fun, effective, and interactive place to teach.

When I'm not in the classroom, blogging and doing all things related to teaching, I enjoy spending time with my family. I live in Nashville, Tennessee with my husband (known as The Mister on my blog), our daughter Adelynn, and our dog Butters.
