Nonstandard Measurement of Weight

Count the cubes to measure each object.

| | |
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th></th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Instructions:
- Glue the stick to the scales to balance the objects.
- Count the cubes to measure each object.

Objects:
- Pencil and block
- Scissors and blocks
- Paintbrush and blocks
- Measuring stick and blocks
- Book and measuring stick
- Toy car and measuring stick

Example:
- The pencil and block are balanced by 2 cubes on the right side.
- The scissors and blocks are balanced by 3 cubes on the right side.
- The paintbrush and blocks are balanced by 1 cube on the right side.
- The book and measuring stick are balanced by 2 cubes on the right side.
- The toy car and measuring stick are balanced by 1 cube on the right side.

© Kindergarten Smorgasboard MK-78
About the Author

I am Mr. Greg from The Kindergarten Smorgasboard. I have been teaching for 14 years. I spent a year teaching Fifth Grade, 2 years in Second Grade, and am now in my 10th year in Kindergarten, which is my passion and my calling but, honestly, that wasn’t how it started. When I moved to Kindergarten (not voluntarily!) I called my mommy and cried. But on the first day, I fell in love and knew that Kindergarten is where I belong. I have remained in Kindergarten ever since.

I plan to never leave the classroom as the kids are what drive me to continue my growth as a teacher and person.

I received my bachelor’s degree from Indiana University and received my ELL certification from David Lipscomb University. At the beginning of my career I spent 2 summers teaching in Ecuador, which only helped to fan the flames of my passion for teaching. I have a monthly broadcast on YouTube called Submission for Smorgie LIVE. I enjoy blogging, creating curriculum and resources for my classroom, and conducting professional development sessions to help teachers around the world make their classrooms a more fun, effective, and interactive place to teach.

When I’m not in the classroom, blogging and doing all things related to teaching, I enjoy spending time with my family. I live in Nashville, Tennessee with my husband (known as The Mister on my blog), our daughter Adelynn, and our dog Butters.